Together for peace

Assalamu alaykum! Peace be with you!

The idea of Islam as a peaceful religion is almost non-existent in the Western world. After September 11th that is being questioned and many young Swedish Muslims feel lost. Many of them don't have enough knowledge to meet the issues of being called into question.

This is why the educational associations Sensus and Ibn Rushd during the years 2006, 2007 and 2008 will cooperate on the project "To promote Islamic peace culture". Together with young Muslims we want to build a national network for peace work and at the same time educate young people in issues concerning Islam, peace and human rights.

Peace agents without borders!

Our goals

- Increase the knowledge about an Islamic peace culture among young Swedish Muslims.
- Produce a handbook about peace from an Islamic perspective and the UN Declaration of Human Rights.
- Educate 100 young Muslims in the ages 16–25 to become Muslim peace agents.
- Give the peace agents tools to build a national network for peace work.
- Build networks with other Swedish peace movements at both an international and a national level.

Are you our peace agent?

- Are you Muslim and 16–25 years old?

- Do you want to be a part of the development of Islamic peace culture?
- Are you interested in contributing to a Swedish-Islamic peace movement?
- Do you have good knowledge of Islam and the Swedish society?

We give you opportunity to:

- Take action and influence the society.
- Spread the Islamic peace message for mutual respect and change in attitudes.
- Inform other young people about Islamic peace culture in Muslim organizations, schools, institutions and non-profit organizations.
- Establish national contacts through our network.

Salam without borders!

The peace agents' education

The course includes four to five educational weekends during one term, with homework to work on in between. You take the course together with 25 other participants from all over Sweden. Together are the peace agents building an important network for exchanging experiences and ideas that enlighten the peace work. After finishing the course you get a diploma that proves that you are a certified peace agent with the right to work as a communication officer.

Course description

The course discusses subjects such as Islamic peace culture, conflict management, human rights and non-violence from different perspectives. You get to participate in dynamic group discussions on difficult subjects as for example the misuse of "Jihad", in connection with peace culture, by both Muslims and non-Muslims.

Experienced and interesting educators

The course is held by educators who are active in Islamic peace culture. We promise you exciting discussions together with interesting foreign and Swedish guest speakers.

Course fee

The course costs 15 000 Swedish crowns per person including travel expenses. You get it for free!

*Peace on earth tomorrow!
